

Access your Voicemail and other call information online through the Personal Communication Manger!

The Communication Manager is a website where you can listen to your voice mail messages, view missed and received call history, and make changes to your voicemail settings. This tool can be accessed from anywhere and provide you with information on your landline number.

The Comm Portal Assistant is a software application that you can download which will create a shortcut to your Communications Manager and will create a popup window on your desktop when a voicemail message has been received.

Welcome To Voice Mail

How does Voice Mail work?

When you're unable to answer the telephone or you are on another call, Voice Mail will automatically take your calls and allow your callers to leave a personal message.

How do you know if you have messages?

There are a number of methods of letting you know that you have a new message.

1. Use your telephones message waiting indicator (MWI). Not all phones have this option.
2. Pick up your telephone, if you hear the distinctive "stutter" dial tone, you have messages.
3. Send a notification to an email address
4. Notify you with an icon in your PCs toolbar (if you use the CommPortal Assistant application)

Your Voice Mailbox Parameters
